History

LLN is the first Latina non-profit organization within the California Community College system recognized by the Chancellors office and funded in 1987.

Vision Statement

LLN envisions a strong network of Latinas within the California Community College system, guided by diverse leadership at all levels while supporting and fostering exemplary and equitable educational and employment opportunities.

Mission Statement

LLN is a mutual support and advocacy organization committed to: providing effective opportunities to develop innovative approaches; increasing participation of Latinas in leadership roles; and promoting and maintaining “la cultura Latina” and non-sexist familial values.
