82	Weekends, and open till 10 on weeknights	11/7/2018 4:06 PM
83	I wish that the library is open much later than it is. My classmate and I study late and we never have anywhere to go. Starbucks at the bottom of the 46 is open until 11, but it is very small so there is not enough adequate space to study. The library hour at former colleges that I have attended are open from 7am-11pm and are open saturdays 8am-6pm and 11-4 on sundays. I really wish they hours at NCC were expanded drastically. I am unable to commute to SLO due to financial restrictions. So I must remain in the area.	11/7/2018 4:06 PM

10	I think that more large group study rooms would be great! It's so difficult most of the time to find a study room. Most will have just two people sitting in there- taking up a full room! Which would be totally fine, if there was also a room available for my group of four that wanted to study!	11/7/2018 10:17 PM
11	This is a lot to ask, but free printing and scanning for all students. I like the balance between the group study vibe provided by student success center an mathlab and the quiet solitude the library provides to grind out homework. It is only open Mon - Thur 7am to 6pm. It would be really helpful if the library also carried these services with their own staff that could maintain it (soundproof rooms with audio and video editing software, microphones, etc.).	11/7/2018 4:05 PM

75	I haven't used anything outside of Canvas. I'm not taking any classes that require me to do research and reference periodicals or other academic articles for a paper at this time but I did when I had a senior project at Cal Poly. Then it was helpful to have librarian assistance.	11/12/2018 6:41 PM
